

Changes in the World of Substances

Equipment:

various things such as

- a rusted tin can or a rusted iron nail
- a dried-out bread
- an embrittled rubber hose
- a book with yellowed and brittle pages
- quartz sand from eroded granite
- petrified mud (with an ammonite) or petrified wood

Safety:

—

Procedure and Observation:

The things are demonstrated or passed around.

They are intended to convey a feeling for the process of creation and decay in the world of substances.

Disposal:

—